Dear Chris Anderle,

Thanks for your summaries. I am sending you a copy of my best copy of Mikulesky. You get my underlining and marginal comments free.

Mikulesky relied a lot on Habenicht, as he himself arrived only about 1868. Yet curiously he says Vaclav Anderle not Fr Josef, the name given by Habenicht. The latter spent about 30 years visiting communities and interviewing, but not all of his information stands up to later documentary evidence either. I think you once mentioned that one of your Anderles had a brother named Welcle/Vaclav. I think Mikulseky is wrong.

Please note that nowhere else is Posler spelled with two s's, not on the land deed or in the Cains Co. Mo. material.

As I read your list, it seems the husband of Francesca did not arrive on the Virginia. He could have reached Buffalo earlier. (First papers often taken out when they landed, if you have any access to that record.) My own family dribbled across the Atlantic over several years, not all together. I can't believe that the FJ Anderle listed as age 58 is the father of that baby. I feel that the transcription is wrong and the age should be 28.

The interesting fact is that A and P are in a different place on the manifest. Surely the father would be with his family. This strengthens the idea that these are my guys. The fact that they came from Germany probably means that they boarded the boat there, not born there. This is useful important bit of understanding, and explains why Czechs got into a list of Germans.

They did not come to MKE with bookseller Naprstek, big wheel in the Czech immigrant aid Society, as more recently I found that he arr. MKE June 6, 1850. But they still could have made the trip. Possible scenario:

July 18 arr NY, Virginia. Give them 2 days NY
Up Hudson to Albany, 2 days, takes us to July 22
Rail to Buffalo, 2 days, July 24
Lake boat to MKE should have been 5-6 days, but frequently longer, July 30
Our target date is Aug 6 when we know they were in Caledonia buying land.

They could have made it if they had been met by someone like Naprstek, who sent them down there. To whom? Kunz or Kroupa? Land available there probably public knowledge. Still really tight, as lake boats probably didn't go every day and they might have needed time to recuperate. But what keeps me going on this is that on the manifest they were together. I doubt that I will have any more time to follow this up. Will finish the book with what I have.

Your info convinced me, though, that the suicide was probably not my Anderle. I'm glad as I hated to see such an end for one of my pioneers. What happened to my Anderle? Did he stahy in the Czech lands? Did he ever return to the US? Maybe some day we'll know.

Don't know whether you know: About two years ago the Czech ambassador here said Czs do more on the history of Czs in America, and should get together and help incoming Czs and folks in the old country. SUV having a conference in Washington (American University) Aug 9 on, and I have been invited to a symposium on Cz immigration. Plan to go.

Good luck on your European trip. Thrilling about the mill.

Coledonia Tup, Kenosha Cty Wisconsin Racine County 1940.

Caledonia, Wisconsin, is the second oldest Pohemian settlement in America. The first Pohemians here had drudging teginnings. The section was then inhabited pricipally by French, Germans, Welsh and Americans and was entirely forested.

The southern boundary is the City of Tacine and the Town of Mt. Fleasant; on the east is Lake Michigan; on the north is Milwaukee County and on the vest is the Town of Paymond. From the north about four miles west of Lake Michigan runs Root River into Caledonia and runs south about four miles, then turns to the east about two miles, again turns south into Racine where it empties into Lake Michigan. Into this turning, then heavily wooded, between Root River on the west, the Lake on the east, Milwaukee County on the north and Racine on the south settled the first Pohemians. They settled mostly around the Milwaukee Road from the Four mile to the Seven Mile Road. This section later obtained the name of Tabor. In the year 1850 Pohemians that arrived in Caledonia, were from Luze in Chrudim, John Posler and Vaclav Andrle. Posler lived on the Townline Road between the Five and Six Mile Roads, and Andrie lived where now lives J. W. Mikulesky. John Fosler in the year 1851 returned to the old country but soon returned to America and settled in the state of Missouri. In the year 1851 the came John Mazanek, Daniel Stritesky, and John Zitka. Zitka was a wheelwright by trade and conducted a wheel shot on the Milwaukee Road many years until the year 1878 when he died.

In the year 1752 other Pohemians came to Caledonia: John Mikulesky, J. Splichal and Kremenak, who all died in the year 1854 of cholera in about the same week. Then came Anton Gregor, 1852 Anna Klofanda, widow and children, Joseph Stritesky, Vaclav Kroulik, John Houdek, John Kutina, Frand and John Mudroch, Joseph Kabriel, Joseph Velfe, Mendlik, Novotny, Mikulas Danek. In the year 1853 the following arrived: Frand Travnicek-Nechuta, Frand Nechuta, Frank Pynak, Frank Toll, Joseph Polak, John Polak, J. Kovar, Farel Smerchek, Simon Smerchek, Joseph Stritesky, Stransky, Zamecnik, and Anton Filip.

Later in the year 1854 care John Elias, John Rosival, Joseph Mhlir, Joseph Hudrle, John Matej, Joseph Jenista, Anton Novak, John Novak, J. Marek, John Svec, Frank, John and Joseph Lorenc, John Hudrlik, Vaclav Raiman, John Horak, Vaclav Trucha, Joseph Splicghl, Martin Klima, Vanbouch, Joseph Houdek, Joseph Visa, Supleta, Machacek, Kadlec, Machal, Hubalek, Slama, Pulda, Vitouska, Klofac.

Soon after came Joseph Kubik, Frank Kubik, John Peterka, Joseph Lucas, John Dvorak, Frank Fridich, John Makovsky, Joseph 18549 Smetana, Joseph Hrbitovsky, Frank Favlis, Vaclav Rusek, Joseph Dostal, JohnMikulecky, Joseph Mikulecky, John Pulkrabek, Andrlik, Joseph Fetura, Vaclav Fetura, Anton Kvapil, Zitka, Jiri Pouska, Joseph Pouska, Hasak, Kroupa, Peklo, Dvoracek, Joseph Svanda, Joseph Stepan, Frank Pouska, Zenisek, Kuchwnka, John Mikan and many other Tohemians. Few came to relatives, others to friends. Some moved to other states. There are not many States where there are no Pohemians who formerly were not in Rohemian Caledonia.

The oldest living Pohemian is Vincent Smerchek who is more than 84.

John Elias brought with him substantial property. He bought himself a fine farm on the Milwamkee Road, five and a half miles from the city of Racine. He was a great nationalist and the Bohemians ran to him with their trouble, He was good hearted and sociable. In the year 1960 he opened a salcon and general store. In the year 1972 he organized a society of the Bohemian residents. The society was named Tabor. He died in they year 1875.

In the year 1854 there was established the first Bohemian business by V. Masak, almost exactly where is now Mr. Charles Kaplan on the Milwaukee Road. After a year and a half he sold the business to weber and R. Klofanda who ran it to the year 1865. J. Moravec ran it until 1973 when the business burned out and was never rebuilt. In the year 1867 there was established by John Fetura a saloon and business on the Five Wile Road. He also sold agricultural implements.

The beginnings of the first settlers were very trying. Bohemians bought mostly wooded lands, so that they could cut wood and so provide livelihood for the family. The clearing of lands from stumps was so much work that grain was planted between the stumps. The man who had a piece of cleared land, did well. So far as clearing the woods, it was much work. Sometimes it was hard to sell it. Hard wood was wheeled to Racine and it brought some flour or some goods; of money there was no talk. Money ordinarily was very uncertain, since farmers could scarcely get from their work enough to pay taxes and other expenses. Mut wood then brought $1 to $1.50 per cord, maple $1.75 to $1.25 delivered to town, other soft woods the farmers had to pull out, put in a pile, and burn so the lands could be cleared.

The roads were primitive. They were only out between stumps. When it was wet, swamps were cut and then a wagon ran into a root and often the wagon was broker. Where there was a large swamp, round logs were cut and laid side by side so it made an uneven floor. Riding over such a road was not pleasant. Later when the Milwaukee Road was paved, these logs were found. Draft animals were all oxen; there were no horses. Work was done entirely by oxen, driven to Racine to Market Square where farmers drove with loads of wood, hav, grain, potatoes, and other vegetables. There were at times as many wagons as there are now automobiles. The worst was when the farmer could not sell his wood; he had to unload it somewhere and ride home.

The first Pohemians in Caledonia who bought horses was John Mikan in the year 1855. Shortly after, other Pohemians bought horses. Then in the year 1854 when the Chicago North-western Railroad was built and they used a large amount of wood and they burned themonly wood and not coal like today. Wood sold well. It rose in value from $4 to $5 a cord. Land also rose in value. Formerly it was from $5 to $10 an acre, then it rose from $50 to $20 per acre. The company bought much wood. The farmers brought it to the County Line where they piled it two cords wide and two high in two piles from the County Line to the Seven Mile Road, which made over one hundred thousand cords of wood. About the year 1970 the company stopped burning word and began to burn coal and did not buy wood. Everyone at that time was astonished how the woods had disappeared. Nevertheless the farmers cleared their land from stumps so they could grow wheat. The wood that was left was then sold to the quarry at Ives and at the Rapids. After the cutting of the woods and the clearing of stumps the farmers began to buy farm machinery.

The first machine John Rosival bought in the year 1861 named Fliwy. The first thresher was bought by Daniel Stritesky in the year 1852. It was driven by thead power, but was without a fanning mill. In the year 1965 John Elias bought a thresher already up to date and he charged five cents per bushel for wheat, six cents for rye, four cents for barley, two cents for oats, and twelve cents for flax.

In the year 1861 there arose the desire for education. On the suggestion of Mr. Frank Mracka there was organized "Slovanska Lipa" on the third of March. The propose of the association was education, helping in association, and the defense of the Pohemian nation and their interests. The first president was Daniel Stritesky, John Mikulecky was vicepresident, John Elias, treasurer, Frank Smerchek, secretary, and Karel Travnicek-Mechuta, correspondent. On April 7,1861, it was decided that Frank Mracek obtain Pohemian newspaper edited in Switzerland under the name "Cech". This was the first that helped reading in Caledonia. On September 15,1861, it was decided that the national newscaper, of whatever name, should be moved to Racine at the expense of Slovenske Lipy, amounting to $55.00, so that "Narod Noviny" be joined with the Racine "Slovanum Amerikanskym" and open offices under the name of "Slavie".

In the year 1862 Slovanske Lipa tegan thinking of erecting a Rohemian school, but there arose great opposition, and the lodge was almost broken up. It was divided into two factions. The smaller group proposed to build only Pohemian school. The other group wanted a religious school. Daniel Stritesky offered the land where the school now stands. On May 18, 1962, the following committee was elected: Frank Friarich, president; Faul Smerchek, treasurer: Frank Smerchek, secretary; and Joseph Smetana, librarian; after this a new school building was soon started. Logs were contributed, and they built, shingles, windows, and others gave willing contributions. They tuilt the school and the first meeting in the new school was held on January 4, 1864. Soon after teaching began; the first teacher was Karel Travnicek-Nechuta, who taught until 1867, without pay. Them John Sobotka taught. From 30 to 40 children attended this Bohemian school. Toward the end of the year 1860 the pofet J. V. Sladek taught here for several months. He translated Longfellow's "Hiawatha" into Pohemian.

Because the Bohemians who were here then and those who same later were reared in brotherhood, they resolved that they also should have their own lodge of Pohemian Prothers. After this decision on June 4, 1865, there was started a voluntary subscription for a Bohemian lodge, which brought $517.37, and John Elias dedicated an acre of land. They immediately began to build and by December 1, 1865, it was completed. The preacher was Frank P. Zdrubek, who later was editor of "Svorhost". After him Frank Stindl preached for many years. Then it slowly dwindled until it entirely ceased and now there is no church.

The lodge "Osveta" was organized February 14, 1875. The princiles of which were princiles liberty of thought and education. The founding membership were the following: Frank Rynak, Sr. , Frank Rynak, Jr., P. Feklo, Jakut Feklo, Joseph Stritesky, Joseph Danek, Jiri Pouska, Joseph Stepan, Franc Stritesky, Frank Mechuta, Vinc Smerchek, John Makovsky, Frank Pouska, Jakob Kroupa. This locge attained it propose for gradually there arose state lodges of liberalminded and in time they joined Slovenska Lipa(also liberalminded) into one strong and powereful lodge, which today supports a Pohemian School and 1972 has two fine libraries, "Slovenska Lipa" and "O sveta" in Caledonia.

Soon after Movember 1977, Pohemian catholicism died in Caledonia. On account of impassable roads and poor weather they could not drive for a priest to serve them, and when burial was necessary, the priest denied burial in a catholic cemetery. They had to take the dead home and then burial was had in the town cemetery in Caledonia. Here the Strongest Bohemian's said: "This also awaigts us". A meeting was called on April 7, 1977, for the purpose of providing for a Pohemian Cemetery. Eleven attended. John Jenista was elected presidnet, Karel Travnicek-Mechuta, secretary. It was decided to buy four acres of high ground from Mateje Jenista at 445 per acre. Surveying, cleaning and road manking was made without compensation. Plots are 20ft. tv 20 ft. In the same year Josefina

PATE OF THE

Makovska, nee Krivska, was buried; she was very voung. In the year 1878 it was decided to erect a large monument in the center of the cemetery in honor of the nation and the Pohemians of Caledonia. A subscription was had, to which the most was given by D. Stritesky, 7100. The next year the monument was erected at the cost of 3400. On June 22, 1879, there was held a dedication ceremony of the monument at the cemetery. This was about the largest dedication by the Pohemians which Caledonia ever witnessed. From the first burial to the present it has greatly changed. Almost all the original pyüchasers of plots now rest there, on soil prepared by them. The cemetery is now almost entirely clanted with flowers and under the small gardens rest some of our loved ones or friends. The cemetery is the pride of Caledonia Pohemians.

The younger and best known Pohamians in Caledonia began to suggest that also body development in Caledona should be encouraged and thereupon there was a gathering on March 15, 1890, to organize Jednota Sokolska under the name of Tel. Jednota Sokol Tabor. The Sokols worked enthusiastically and soon there was thought of building Ceska Sine. It was the thought of all the brothers to help, so in the year 1894 they erected it with a stage in addition, which serves Caledonia Pohemians as a national home.

wheat and other grain for the market. At that time many began to raise strawberries and other greens. Later everyone raised strawberries, and the farmers helped themselves greatly through the sales of strawberries. Then prices declined and strawberry raising also declined. Later they raised cabbage and sugar betts. The raising of cabbage reached large provertions, so that the Pohemians filler nearly a thousand railroad cars a year. But this too lowered, sometimes by small crops, again by poor prices. The better farmers gave more attention to cattle raising and the sale of milk, which paid them better. They tuilt good barns and stalls, where cattle had everything comfortable, such as light, ventilation and cleanliness, and all modern necessary equipment. Almost all now have silos.

The Bohemians who had the first automobiles were John Visa, Frank Rynak, Joseph Havlis, and Joseph Peterka. Now most of them have one or two automobiles.

February 15, 1892 was founded the lodge "Ceska Caledonia #182 C. S. P. S. Meetings are held each month in the Pohemian school.

When the World War broke out, the Pohemians of Caledonia took active notice that our Pohemian fatherland also sought freedom since Pohemians over the whole world worked for Bohemian freedom. In Caledonia in the year 1917 was organized "Ceskeho Narodniho Sdruzeni". To this purpose the Sokols were loaned the use of Ceska Sine and here all Pohemian lodges joined to work for the old fatherland. It lasted but little over two years. In that short time there was gathered for national purposes annual parties and bazaars and otherwise, the sum of about 12,422. It was almost unbelievable how the people offered contributions for Narodni Sdruzeni.

(These notes were first made in 1922 - according to the author's recollection - in Bohemian. They were translated by a young lawyer, his friend, living nearby. They have been brought up to date (1940) in the present form. A first draft of them is enclosed in the monument in the Bohemian cemetery mentioned above.)

It is well known that the first Czech community in the United States was in New York City. It consisted of some of the thirty-nine Czechs of the Pilsen 35th regiment of the Austrian army, who multined in the Hapsburg garrison at Mainz in 1847 and fled to the United States. Czech families also settled in Chicago (first known name 1846). Cleveland, St. Louis, and Milwaukee But all these, if they could be called communities, were in the cities.

The first rural Czech settlement was in Caledonia Township in Racine County on the shore of Lake Michigan between Racine and Milwaukee, Wisconsin. It was known after 1872 as Tabor. Not much was made of this fact, if anyone had considered the matter at all, until Father Francis Dvornik pointed it out in his 1962 Czech Contributions to the Growth of the United States Thomas Capek, in his classic The Czechs (Bohemians) in the United States (1920) names Caledonia/Tabor as the second oldest Czech settlement, but this is true only if one discounts the several family city communities.

The first Czech to own land in Caledonia was A. C. (Charles) Kunz. a baron born in Prague who in late 1848 reached the United States Between August and December 1849 he bought several lots in Racine six miles south of Tabor and pieces of land in Caledonia. He maintained his residence in the city, but told the 1850 census taker that he was a farmer. Managing his holdings was Anton Kroupa, a weaver from Vlasim near Prague, who has been said to have come with Kunz, and, again, arrived by himself in December 1848. He later owned a farm in Tabor. Kunz and how he came to Racine County have remained a mystery. He died in Iowa County, Iowa in 1855.

Generally considered the first Czechs to settle Tabor are Jan Posler and Vaclav Andrig, from Luze in the Chrudim district east of Prague. Arriving in the summer of 1850, they purchased land from a member of my family who had come three years earlier. Posler, a '48er, later moved to Cedar Rapids Iowa, enlisted in the Union Army in the Civil War, and wound up on a farm in Cainsville in the far northwestern corner of Missouri.

Wisconsin, the earliest state to be settled widely by Czechs, absorbed fully a third of all Czech immigrants before 1860. It was the first major center of Czech-American life. Other Czech Wisconsin communities began soon after Tabor: towns in Manitowoc County in 1851 and Kewaunee in 1854.

More settlers soon arrived in Caledonia, among them Daniel Stritesky. John Mazanek, and Mathias Secor (ancestor of CCSC's Robert Gromm) in 1851, a group led by Jan Mikulecky of Sloupnice which reached Caledonia late 1852/early 1853 via Bremen, Germany and Quebec, Canada. Several were assisted in emigrating by Anton Klobasa of Chocen and arrived from 1852 onward, and his own family in 1855.

While eastern Caledonia was still mainly forest, the Czechs had been preceded by a layer of "Yankee" (English and Irish) settlers from the east from 1834 on, and by more recent Germans, among them my family. They were able to move into the log cabins of farms vacated by the restless Yankees who sought better land for extensive farming elsewhere.

It is not clear why these and other early arrivals should have come to this particular forested area with its foggy Wind Point poking out into Lake Michigan like a nose above the mouth of the Root River. One apocryphal tale offers an explanation for why so many Czechs live along the lake in eastern Caledonia: At some unstated time a boat carrying a load of Czech immigrants shipwrecked on Wind Point, and the passengers, thrown up on the shore, settled there.

Beyond letters home, and from relatives the Czechs learned about Wisconsin in the same way as Germans of their time flyers or ads in the same German-language newspapers. After 1852 newcomers at the New York docks were guided to Wisconsin by immigration commissioner Gysbert van Steenwyk, stationed there.

Possibly the very first Czechs, like many German immugrants, got off the lake boat in Milwaukee, rented a room in a home or hotel for their families, rented or bought a horse and possibly a wagon, and rode out looking for land. Finding farms closer to Milwaukee already bought up or too expensive, they chose Caledonia to the south.

In the absence of more information, one can only surmise: Perhaps Kunz or his wife Catherine Bayer knew someone, Czech or otherwise, in Racine. Or perhaps they had originally headed for Milwaukee and there learned of the developing town. Racine. Perhaps Anderle/Posler came the same way, or perhaps they knew Kunz/Kroupa.

One other surmise involves Vojta Naprstek, a '48er who arrived in Milwaukee in the summer of 1850 to open a Czech bookstore. While in New York he had been secretary of the Czech Society, formed in 1850 to aid immigrants. Perhaps Andrle/-Posler were directed to Milwaukee or Racine by the Czech Society. Posler, being a '48er, may have known or even come with Naprstek.

Tabor became "mother of all Bohemian settlements." Right off the boat, immigrants sought Tabor, for there they knew they'd find fellow countrymen and help. When local families built better homes, they kept their cabins for visitors. From Tabor and Racine, wagon trains of immigrants left for the further reaches and still-open land of lowa, Kansas, Minnesota, Nebraska, and Oklahoma. There are very few states without Czechs from Czech Caledonia," wrote J.W. Mikulecky, a local carpenter who wrote a history of the place.

My research uncovered not only a slice of the American experience but surprising things about my seemingly ordinary home place: How the Czechs of this little farm community. despite frontier hardships, kept in touch with main European currents of the day; how it became a stronghold of free thought (really an expression of Czech nationalism against Catholic-dominated Hapsburg rule) resulting in many breaking with the Catholic Church; and how these once intensely religious people carried this feeling over into a new humanist view which helped create a highly moral community atmosphere of extraordinary tolerance and brotherhood, but also with a social life ebullient as the beat of its polkas. Thanks very much. I put a check in the mail today.

I'm not surprised that you found nothing on Caleb Rich. I now know that he only served 3 weeks after which he paid a substitute to fill out the remainder of his enlistment term. Thanks for checking.

Could you let me know the cost for copies of a ship passenger list? The ship was the Virginia, from Bremen to New York arriving on 16 July 1850. I need photocopies of entries for the following passengers. They are probably listed in two separate groups. They may or may not be on the same page. Thanks.

Hi, I have your Michigan census pages. Let's call it $7.00. $5.00 for the census pages and $2.00 for the book look up. I'm adding a research service to my document delivery service, since many people need help. I'm sharging that the cost of the census pages included, if it's not too sany.

The Rev War pansion material I will continue to charge per page.

Dear Ione Kramer,

Your letter prompted me to dig out my "miscellaneous Andrle" file and spend a few hours reviewing it. You gave me a lot of good clues, but I am sorry to say that I have not done much additional research on the possible New York-Wisconsin connection since we last corresponded.

I did order copies of the passenger list for the Virginia which arrived in New York on July 18, 1850. It is difficult to read, however, I believe that the Filby index which gave the name as Anderler is incorrect. It looks to me like the passengers are actually Jno Possler, age 27 and Frz Anderle, age 58. These two are listed together. Farther down the list are Frz Anderle, age 16, Franzisca Anderle, age 23, and Joseph Anderle, age 1/2.

I am still thinking that it's possible that Possler and the first Anderle went straight to Wisconsin where they bought the 10 acre lot in Tabor together, the first Anderle then selling out to Possler and returning to Bohemia. The other three may have stopped in Buffalo long enough to get picked up in the 1850 census and a couple of city directories, and then moved to Milwaukee about 1853.

I am hoping to do some more Andrie research this year. I am planning a trip to Bohemia and currently am attempting to locate the Andrie mill in Kosumberk and find out whether it still exists. I'd like to check some of the references you gave me. The Habenicht book should be available in one of the libraries here. Do you know if it's possible to get a copy of the Mikulesky manuscript that you mentioned? I was wondering how long it was and whether it is in English or not. I'd also be interested in a copy of your book once you get it published.

Sincerely,

Christopher Andrle

Christopher Andrle 5554 Juno Drive Lake View, New York 14085

Dear Chris Anderle:

How are you getting on with your research? My last letter to you was in November 1997. I put the Tabor ms. away and did not look at it until this year. I am trying to get it published and am freshening up the information.

You mentioned finding an Anderlik and Possler arriving on the Wrginia July 18, 1850. Did you ever follow this up? I remarked that they would have to hurry in order to buy land in Tabor on Aug. 6, but it was possible, especially if they had help from the immigrant aid society and its head bookseller Naprstek in MKE. I believe that my Anderle was not Vaclav (maybe you have investigated Wencle who was probably another person and Mikulesky was wrong), and the Frank Anderle who committed suicide (he left a note saying he came in 1850).

I would greatly appreciate any information you have gathered since on this point.

With best wishes,

Ione Kramer

Christopher Anderle 5554 June Drive Lake View, NY 14085

Who was the Francis Anderle who appeared in the 1850 US census of Buffalo, New York? Is there a Wisconsin connection?

Francis Andrle who was born 16 November 1835 at Zdislav No. 22, near Luze in the Chrudim district of Bohemia, applied for an Austrian travel pass at Pardubitz, Bohemia on 9 April 1852. His travel pass was stamped at the Prague railway station on 10 May 1852 and he crossed the border to Saxony on 11 May 1852. He sailed from Bremen, arriving in New York City on board the bark Wieland on 24 June 1852. Soon after, he appeared in Buffalo, New York, where he lived until his death in 1877. Who was the Francis Anderle, age 30, a tailor, with wife Frances, age 23 and son Joseph, age 6 months, who appeared nearly two years earlier in the 1850 U.S. census of Buffalo?

The 1851-52 edition of the Buffalo, New York city directory lists Francis Anderle, a tailor, at Main Street near Goodell. The 1852 city directory lists Francis Anderle, a tailor, at the corner of Michigan and Cherry Streets. Was this the same Francis who appeared in the 1850 census? Publication dates for these directories are not known and any canvassing was probably done some time prior to publication or was simply copied from previous editions so it is not likely that the Francis Andrle who arrived in June of 1852 would have appeared in either of these directories.

No Anderle or Andrle appears in the 1853 city directory, but in 1854 there is found Francis Anderle, a tailor, at the corner of Main Street and Burton Alley. In the same directory is a listing for Adalbert Mischka, a joiner, also at the corner of Main and Burton Alley. Adalbert Mischka was born on 2 February 1817 in Herrman-Myestetz, Bohemia. He and his family arrived in New York City on the ship Jason on 10 August 1852, one and a half months after the arrival of Francis Andrle. In the 1855 New York State census, Francis Andrley, age 20, born in Austria, an alien, three years a resident of Buffalo, was a boarder listed with the family of Adalbert Mischka. This makes it seem likely that the Francis Anderle who appears in the 1854 city directory was the one who arrived in 1852. What happened to the 1850 Francis Anderle? Is only it a coincidence that both were tailors?

Francis Anderle also appears in the 1855 Buffalo city directory, again as a tailor at the corner of Main and Burton Alley. This is the last time he is listed as being a tailor. He does not appear in 1856, and from 1857 until 1874, his occupation is given as painter. Only from 1875 until 1877 was his occupation given as musician, although he was said to have been a long time member of the Union Cornet Band of Buffalo, a member of the orchestra at the Academy of Music in Buffalo, and a music teacher.

On 16 July 1850, the ship Virginia arrived in New York City from Bremen with the following passengers: Frz. Anderle, age 16, a farmer, Franzisca Anderle, age 22, a farmer, and Jos. Anderle, age 6 months. Could this have been the same Anderle family that appeared on the 1850 census in Buffalo? The 1850 census was enumerated on August 20, giving them just over a month to make the trip from New York to Buffalo. Also arriving on the Virginia were two other passengers, Jno. Possler, age 27, a farmer, and Frz. Anderle, age 58, also a farmer.

Buffalo was not a common destination for immigrants from Bohemia during the early 1850's. Most were heading for the Midwest and many settled in Wisconsin. Based on incomplete research, it seems possible that Possler and the older Frantisek Anderle who arrived on the Virginia went directly to Wisconsin where they jointly purchased land on August 6, 1850 in Caledonia. The other Frantisek Andrle with wife Franciska and son Joseph were in Buffalo from 1850 until 1853 when they arrived in Milwaukee. No connection has been found between the Virginia passengers and Francis Andrle who arrived in Buffalo in 1852.

Timeline

- 1817 February 2 Adalbert Mischka born in Herrman-Myestetz, Bohemia.
- 1820 April 20 (or 24) Frank Anderle who died in 1900 in Milwaukee born.
- 1835 November 16 Francis Andrle born in Zdislav No. 22, Luze, County Chrudim, Bohemia.
- 1850 July 18 arriving in New York City on the ship Virginia were the following:
 - 17. Jno. Possler, age 27, male, farmer, from Germany, to United States
 - 18. Frz Andfle, age 58, male, farmer, from Germany, to United States
 - 23. Frz Anderle, age 16, male, farmer, from Germany, to United States
 - 24. Franzisca Anderle, age 22, female, from Germany, to United States
 - 25. Joseph Anderle, age 1/2, male, from Germany, to United States
- 1850 August 6, John Possler and France Anderle purchase 20 acres in Tabor, Wisconsin (Kramer). Could these have been the two who arrived on the Virginia?
- 1850 August 20, US census, Buffalo, New York Francis Anderle, age 30, tailor, with wife Francis, age 23, and son Joseph, age 6 months, all born in Germany. Could this be the same family who arrived on the Virginia on 18 July 1850?
- 1850 September 8, John Possler buys another 10 acres in Tabor, Wisconsin (Kramer).
- 1851-1852 Buffalo City Directory
 Anderle, Francis, tailor, h. Main near Goodell. (p. 102)
- 1851 June 3, France Andrle sells his half of the 20 acres in Tabor to John Possler (Kramer) and reportedly returns to Bohemia. Possibly this is the Frz. Anderle who was listed with Possler on the Virginia passenger list.
- 1852 Buffalo City Directory Anderle, Francis, tailor, h. corner Michigan & Cherry.
- 1852 April 9 Francis Andrle receives Austrian travel pass at Pardubitz, Bohemia. The State Provincial Archives at Zamrsk hold two volumes of passport applications made at the regional government office in Pardubice from 1850 to 1854. The entry for Franz Andrle, serial number 242, has been found. There appears to also be an entry for Adalbert Mischka, serial number 206, on 1 April 1852. Franz Mudroch and Joseph Hrnitschko, passengers with Francis Andrle on the Wieland also received passports on 7 April 1852.
- 1852 May 10 Francis Andrle boards train at the Prague Railway Station for Bremen.

Dear Chris:

I have news for you, but it is not pleasant, as you see from the newspaper story.

He may well be the Anderle who came with Posler, as the note on him said he came in 1850. What a shame that one of Tabor's first Czech pioneers should have come to such an end. But, then, I just learned that Merriweather Lewis took his own life too, less than five years after his great excursion with Clark. I haven't decided how to deal with this in the book. Habenicht does not seem to connect the two (though he is frequently inaccurate). Perhaps he did not want to, though I can't see why not since he mentions the suicide in Milwaukee. Since it is not definitely proven that they are the same person, I think that I will leave it out for now. Posler (think I sent you the stuff) went on to live a busy life in Missouri.

My time was not my own when I was in MKE, but squeezed between my brother's polkafest and son's visits to relatives. So when I got where I could research, I ran through like a freight train. Therefore I copied only this one clipping for you. The other MKE paper for the surrounding dates did not seem to carry the story. There is no biog file for that period, but the date was the clue. There may be something about him in Slavie, which I can't read, either at the time of suicide, or in connection with earlier activities, but hard to get. Mke Sentinel, June 10, 1900. You now also have addresses, and ward. Tried tracking him down earlier but too many people in MKE without ward No.

The work of the league is one of a practical character, and has received the endorsement of some of the best educators of the country.

National Officers Interested.

The meeting to-morrow afternoon has been arranged largely through the instrumentality of Mrs. Guy D. Berry, who has enlisted other Milwaukee women in the work. Mrs. Plorence Kelly of New York city corresponding secretary of the National Consumers' league, will be present to address the meeting upon the objects of the league and what it has accomplished in other cities.

"The Consumers' League," said Mrs. Kelly last evening, "was started by Mrs. Charles Russell Lowell and Mrs. Frederick Nathan of New York in New York city, about ten years ago. The New York City league has been cooperating with the merchants of that city in improving the conditions of employment. For instance, the league asks women not to shop late in the afternoon; not to shop on Saturday afternoon; not to insist upon having things delivered the same day that they are ordered; to do their Christmas shoping early, so as to diminish the Christman tush, which is so very hard on merchants and employees alike. They also favor the prompt payment of bills, and in turn ask the merchants to employ no children under 14 years of age; not to pay children less than; $2 a week; to pay women the same wages they pay men for the same work; to provide seats for women employees.

Many Branches Formed.

Since the formation of the league in there have been formed Utica, Brooklyn, Yonkers, New York leagues - in and other cities, as well as state leagues in Massachusetts, Pennsylvania; 11linois, New Jersey, Ohio, Minnesota and Wisconsin. These state leagues compose the National league, which does not deal with conditions in the stores themselves. but looks beyond the stores to the factory. We began this last work a year ago last We began in the factories making muslin underwear for women and children, to look for a model factory; and we adopted a label to be put on the goods of the model factories, and then asked the purchaser to ask for the label. This label guarantees that the goods are made in the factory and do not go at any stage of their manufacture to tenement houses or sweatshops. It also guarantees that no women or girls are employed longer than ten hours in any one day, or more than sixty hours a week, and that no children under 16 years of age have been employed in its making. Finally, it guarantees that all requirements of the factory laws in the respective states where the goods are made bave been complied with. The man-ufacturer signs a contract with the league agreeing to incet these requirements and pay aspenuity of $100 for any failure to do so. There are now thirteen factories, including the largest in the New England states, using this label, and a large number of others are negotiating for it.

Dear Christopher Andrle:

Comments on your intriguing possibilities:

It is not impossible that the Anderlik and Possler you found docking the Virginia on July 16, 1950 are the guys I have been looking for. The age 58 could be a mistranscription of age 28, and these things were never very accurate.

If they knew where they were going, they could have got to WI by August 6. I have a record of a sale by a man named Morgans of 20 acres on that date to John Posler and France Anderle for $160. It lies just north of the farm where my great-great grandfather Lang lived.

On September 8 Posler bought another 10 acres from my ancestor John Bauer, spearhead of a small pre-1850 Bavarian invasion of Tabor. I know that piece well as it was a pasture between the farm where I grew up and the Lang (later Schelling) farm to the north. On June 3, 1851 Anderle sold his part of that joint plot to Posler, and this is the last record I have of him in Tabor. (Land Deeds Book 2, p 310, Racine County Courthouse)

What we learn from this record is that "Vaclav" was actually Frantisek (France). My local historian Mikulesky probably got it from Habenicht, but where H. got Vaclav I didn't know. I suppose we will not know whether to pursue these guys or rule them out until you see the record of the Virginia, (on microfilm I believe) and of course sometimes the answers are very sketchy.

Mikulesky says Anderle lived, therefore probably had land, on the Five Mile at the site where he lived, but I do not seem to have found that land transfer record or any others involving that Anderle.

However, I did note that on October 1, 1894 a Joseph Anderle sold 8 acres on the east bank of the river in Sec. 14 to Jacob Wagner. This land formerly owned by Wooster (very early) and sold to Ferry. I did not follow up this Anderle as I thought the one I wanted was long gone, so I do not know when he acquired it. The 1857 (earliest) plat map shows a tiny piece of land at that spot, but too small to show a name. You were right, there were two Anderles in Tabor! Or maybe he didn't live in Tabor. Mikulesky, who immigrated in 1860, would have known him, so it's unlikely he's the original Anderle but might be the MKE one.

As you know the 1890 census was destroyed. If there is an 1880 of Caledonia available I can run through the names for that area to see what I find. I cannot do this for the Anderle in MKE, as it is a big city and I have no clue right now as to what ward. Most likely the only way to find out about him is his obituary. I suppose you can get this for a fee from the MKE Genealogical Society or County Historical Society. I may to go WI soon and if I have time will look it up. The Czech paper Slavie problably has something about his death, since he was a well-known person. Most of it is in the archives at Univ. of WI Parkside just south of Racine, but I do not read Czech. About the suicide business. It seems not uncommon for very elderly Czech men, wives dead, all alone, perhaps not wanting to be a burden, to take their own lives. I believe there is more than one case of this in Tabor, but I have not pursued this point. Perhaps if they were Freethinkers this was easier.

Do you ever use the computers or fiches (same info) at LDS? Very incomplete but occasionally you find something.

Good luck! Sincerely,

Tone/ Kramer

Christopher Andrle 5554 Juno Drive Lake View, New York 14085

Dear Christopher Andrle:

I wish I had more information for you about the Andrle who settled in Tabor. Mine originally came from a typed manuscript in the Racine County Historical Society by J. W. Mikulesky, a local carpenter (who I knew).

Late last year an important work by Dr. Jan Habenicht, History of Czechs in America (in Czech, 1910, Dejiny Cechuv Americkych) became available in English translation. Although I had previously had sections translated, this enabled me to check up on Tabor folks' relations with other places. I am sending you copies of pages from the book and of a few pages of my chapter three.

Mikulesky, probably following Habenicht: he himself did not reach Tabor until 1868/9, says Vaclav Andrle died in the Czech lands. I have speculated whether, instead, he could have come back and settled in Milwaukee (Frantisek Josef, Josef Frantisek—this is a thing that frequently occurs) but so far have been unable to trace him, or even find what ward he lived in to verify through the census. Not in WI 1860 census index. Did not try 1880 Soundex, as that has only families with children under ten. May make some effort to find a newspaper report of his death next time I get to Wisconsin. It is difficult to trace Milwaukee Czechs as their old records are in Czech, as their national activity seems to have more or less died out or is of a very modern date. I have not made much effort either, as, though related, it is peripheral to Tabor. Have not tried any sources from the Czech lands such as church records.

Habenicht gives the Tabor Andrle's birth date as April 24, 1820.
The WI Death Index gives the Milwaukee Anderle's birth date as April 20,1820.
As errors in transcription occur, that they are the same is not ruled out.
An LDS fiche has a Frank Anderle who died June 9, 1900 (Vol. 25, p. 6815, Reel 86, Image 2710, Index Vol 08 BETTER CHECK ALL THIS). I think this is the full death index notation. Did not check it as these listings give very little useful information.

Perhaps from your own research you can shed some light on this. I'd love to hear. Anyway, I'm glad to see that someone read my article and found it of interest. The book is finished, and a likely publisher has had it for five months. At least he doesn't return it, but also he hasn't accepted it. I'm about ready to go someplace else.

Richter from Valovice; Josef Mann; Josef Schramm and Hynek Heller from Roudnice (nad Labem?— M.K.); Josef Zima from Kralovice near Plzeň; and František Fišer (he now spells his name Fisher).

Fr. Fišer was born in Budině (?Budín?—M.K.) in the Prague region in 1840 and arrived in Milwaukee as a nine-year boy with his parents. In 1851, the Fišer family moved to Manitowoc County, established a farming colony there and called it "town Kossuth". When the war broke out in 1862, František Fišer was one of the first Czechs to go and fight for the abolition of slavery. In 1875, his father Josef died, and in 1888, František Fisher moved to Milwaukee again and has lived there so far.

In 1853, Josef František Anderle settled there. He had been a furrier in Luže, Bohemia. Upon his arrival in Milwaukee, he tailored and ran a bar at the same time. Later on, he became the first Czech-American principal of a puppet theater. On June 8, 1900, as an eighty-year old man, he committed suicide.

In 1854, Josef Janeček came to Milwaukee. He was born in Kralovice on January 8, 1834. In the Cream City he lived initially on the music and tailor's trade; later on, he had a clothing store and a bar. He had another bar at Fond du Lac Avenue, and at that same time, was a trainer of the "Hlahol" (Chime) and of a music band. In that same year, Václav Toepfer settled in Milwaukee. He was born in Humpolec in 1835. In Milwaukee he founded a factory for making iron implements for breweries and malt-houses. The first perforated machine for malting floors and some innovated brewery machines came from his workshop. His products were not only used in America, they were also exported to England, Japan and other countries. Toepfer died on March 21, 1898 and many papers carried articles on his productive life.

František Kříž (already deceased) came with Toepfer. He was born in Čečovice near Plzeň on March 15, 1836. In Milwaukee he was an assistant to Vojta Náprstek and one of his best friends. Later on, he established his own wine bar. He brought two brothers and a sister to Milwaukee, Hynek (born in Čečovice in 1838, died in Milwaukee in 1872), Jan (born in Čečovice in 1840, died in Milwaukee in 1870) and Marie who married Jan Hrobský.

In 1856, a tailor, the late Josef Satran, arrived in Milwaukee. He was born in Ctineves near Roudnice nad Labem on November 25, 1829. He was a modest man and sincere Czech.

In 1858, František V. Černý, already deceased, arrived in Milwaukee. He was born in Břežany near Český Brod in September 1825. He became a trained maker of brass musical instruments in Brno and ran

The Church of St. Wenceslaus in Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

The first organizer of association life in Milwaukee and the founder of the Czech library was Vojta Náprstek. He motivated the local Czechs to establish a Czech association which came true, however, only in 1860. As in Chicago, Racine and elsewhere, the first association was the "Slovanská Lípa" (Slavonic Linden Tree).

In a year, the society "Čechoslovan" (Bohemian Slav) was established there. Its main purpose was the support of the sick and to provide a death allowance, but it also participated in national enterprises.

But the "Slovanská Lípa" was not a benevolent society. Its purpose was to organize national life and it soon became the center of the local Czechs. It established the first Czech bindery and organized theater. During the first years of its existence it did not have an association hall; meetings took place once a month at various members' homes. Theater performances were given at "Birchard Hall", on the southeast corner of Grand Avenue and West Water Street. The first director was the late František J. Anderle. In 1865, the "Slovanská Lípa" rented a hall at "the Meisters" on Chestnut Street and the theater opened with the first performance, "Vrahové v městě" (Murderers in the City) in the winter of 1867. Its director was Josef K. Schuessler, the later director of the theater of the Czech-American Sokol in Chicago. In 1869, the "Slovanská Lípa" built its own hall on Prairie Street, and on December 25th, it opened with a performance "Ďáblův mlýn na Vídeňské hoře" (Devil's Mill on the Viennese Mountain). It was directed by Josef K. Schuessler who remained the theater director for a whole year. Upon his resignation, Antonín Novák was elected director.

On June 14, 1868, the first Sokol corps in Milwaukee, "Tělocvičná Jednota Sokol" (Sokol Gymnastic Union), was established. On November 20, 1870 it merged with the "Slovanská Lípa" and kept the name "Sokol". This union became extinct in 1877. On June 1, 1878, another Sokol corps was established, the "Věrní bratří Sokol" (Sokol Loyal Brothers). There were 13 founding members. In 1891, the corps changed its name to the "Tělocvičná Jednota Sokol" (Sokol Gymnastic Union) and they purchased a lot on the corner of 12th and Wine Streets. Today it has about 100 members.

In 1895, this corps along with the lodges "Wisconsin", established on June 4, 1877 and the (C.S.P.S.)
"Čechoslovan" (Bohemian Slav) constructed the "Česko-americká síň" (Czech American Hall) with a nice stage on the above mentioned lot. The old hall on Prairie Street became the property of the lodge "Wisconsin" and was then sold. In addition to the above mentioned associations, those are worth mentioning.
The C.S.P.S. lodge "Horyunt"; two units of the Union of Bohemian Women, the "Martha Washington" and the "Slavomíra"; the choir "Hlahol", established in 1878; and the Z.C.B.J. lodge "Milwaukee".

Czech Catholics in Milwaukee had as their first Czech priest, the late Father Josef Gartner, a native of Moravia. In 1871 he purchased an unfinished German Protestant church on the corner of 4th and Cherry Streets and established a Catholic colony there. Upon his departure for Rome, some priests practiced there. The following are worth an honorary mention: The late Father Gelasius Kuba from Moravia who practiced at the colony of St. John Nepomuk for two years. Father Tob. Spunař assumed the church administration after him; he was Moravian and is also deceased. But some disputes arose in the colony under his administration which resulted in his departure.

Father Leo Suchý administered the Czech Catholics in Milwaukee in 1875. He was born in Horšovský Týn on July 20, 1841, graduated from a Prague grammar school, and in 1863, entered the Order of St. Francis at the Virgin Mary of the Snows where he was ordained in 1867. He then practiced both as a Czech and German preacher in Prague, Haindorf (Hejnice, north Bohemia) and Moravia. He came to America in 1873 and settled in La Crosse, Wisconsin. He practiced there for two years and then he took over the administration of the colony of St. John Nepomuk in Milwaukee. In 1879 he built a Czech Catholic school and a rectory there and repaired the church. But the design of the school was

One summer I shared with Mikulesky the task of painting our family farmhouse. The Czech original of his manuscript, written in 1922, resides in the central monument of Tabor's Bohemian National Cemetery. Without it, study of the history of the community would be a lot more difficult. 16

Mikulesky cites as Caledonia's first Czech settlers (1850) John Posler, twenty-seven, and Vaclav (Frantisek Josef) Andrle, thirty, both from Luze in the Chrudim district east of Prague.

Posler, in trouble for activity in the 1848 uprising, was smuggled out of Austria first in a barrel and then in a load of hay. His abettor was John Sobotka, who had a haulage route from Austria to Germany and later wound up in Missouri. Son of a soap manufacturer, Posler was well read, having besides the usual Czech and German, a knowledge of French and Latin. His chosen trade was carpenter, but he worked as a clerk in the city court for six years.

He and Andrle, of whom little is known, must have come to Wisconsin after the June, 1850 census. In August and September they bought several pieces of land north of the Five Mile Road. One they purchased jointly. Posler bought ten acres on Highway 31 from Johann Bauer, second among the early arrivals in my own family.

Posler may have built one the two log cabins which stood behind the later site of our farmhouse. Perhaps he was aided by Bauer and his father-in-law, my great-great-grandfather, Johann Lang, whose log house, though probably obscured by thick forest, lay just to the north.

The cabin that survived, which served as the farm's pigpen in my day, had a room on either side of a central north-south hallway. Small windows high up could be covered with heavy board shutters. Anderle lived around the corner on the Five Mile Road on the site of Mikulesky's home.

If they spent the 1850-51 winter in such homes, it is no surprise to find Andrle selling out to Posler in June 1851 and returning to Bohemia, where he lived until his death (Mikulesky). By 1852 the migration to Iowa had begun. Kunz was gone. In August Posler too, now in Cedar Rapids, was selling his Tabor land through an intermediary. A 1911 history of Iowa's Linn County surrounding Cedar Rapids cites him as one of its early Czech settlers. Then he decided to head for California gold, but lightning killed one of his party's oxen (accounts vary as to whether at Lincoln, Nebraska or in northern Missouri) so they decided not to go on. He settled in to farm in Cainsville, in Missouri's far northwestern Harrison County, just over the Iowa state line.

In 1861 Posler went back to Austria to bring out his mother and sister, both widows, and the latter's two daughters. He delighted in flaunting his American citizenship, which entitled him to privileges even the Czech nobility did not have. On learning of the outbreak of the Civil War, he hurried back alone to enlist. He served in the Twenty-seventh Missouri Volunteer Infantry at Vicksburg and the Battle of Jackson, and did not get his family to the United States until after the war.¹⁷

Why This Place?

It is not clear why these and other early arrivals should have come to this particular forested area with its foggy Wind Point poking out into Lake Michigan like a nose above the mouth of the Root River. Digging turns up marvelous old tales. One offers an explanation for why so many Czechs live along the lake in eastern Caledonia. At some unstated time a lake boat carrying a load of Czech immigrants shipwrecked on Wind Point, and the passengers, thrown up on the shore, settled down there. But when one sees the early maps of this same land under Yankee owners' names and understands the mechanisms of acquiring land, this tale holds no more water than that wrecked boat. A companion to this tale is associated with the brick works founded around 1870 at Wind Point by Francis Burdick and George Erskine. The owners are said to have persuaded lake captains to draw in at the point to let the immigrant men off—and into the hands of the two operators. To hold onto their labor force, the latter went to great ends to keep them in the dark about the fact that Racine actually lay several miles to the south, so the story goes.¹⁸

Beyond word of mouth, the Czechs learned about Wisconsin in the same way as Germans of their time. The first Czechs may have seen leaflets or read ads in German-language newspapers.

After 1852 newcomers at the New York docks were guided to Wisconsin by its immigration commissioner Gysbert van Steenwyk, stationed there to promote the state.

The first Czechs, like many German immigrants, probably got off the boat in Milwaukee, rented a room in a home or hotel for their families, rented or purchased a horse and perhaps a wagon, and rode out looking for land. Finding farms closer to Milwaukee already bought up or too expensive, they chose Caledonia.

More likely about Kunz, however, is that he knew someone in Wisconsin, for he does not seem to have come to be a rural settler. There are several possibilities: He or his wife knew someone in Racine; or they originally headed for Milwaukee and there learned of the developing town, Racine. These suppositions could also apply to Anderle/Posler. Other possibilities are: The two knew Kunz/Kroupa; or were directed to Milwaukee or Racine by the Czech Society which had formed in New York in early 1850 to aid immigrants. They may even have come with its secretary, Vojta Naprstek, an 1848 refugee who arrived in Milwaukee in the summer of 1850 to open a Czech bookstore and lending library. Since he was also a Forty-Eighter, Posler may have known Naprstek, though no trace of any of these individuals was found in the Naprstek papers in Prague.

Word of Caledonia was passed back. "A few came to relatives, others to friends," writes Mikulesky. A Stritesky family memoir quotes such a letter: "There is nobody to stop you, and you can buy all the land you want." From "a friend who had gone before," now in Wisconsin, in 1852

Jan Mikulecky in Sloupnice learned of freedom and acres of cheap land. It could have been Daniel Stritesky or John Mazanek, listed by Mikulesky as 1851 arrivals. Hard as conditions were, Terezie Makovsky recommended Tabor to her sister Mary (Mrs. Joseph) Lorence, who with husband Jan and two other Makovsky families arrived in the autumn of 1856.

The Mikulecky group seems to have headed directly for Caledonia, by way of Bremen and Quebec. A local file of immigration information cites September 1852 as the date Mikulecky entered the United States at Buffalo. That city was not a common port of entry and has no records. With him were Anna and their infant son, Joseph, and Mrs. Anna Klofanda and her children, for that September date is recorded for her son. If you ask the old families, very few know. I don't know these details about my ancestors either.

¹⁵. Kunz has remained something of a mystery. Habenicht has a story that he brought with him a lot of cloth, and traveled about [presumably the Midwest] with Kroupa and several assistants selling it. He got in trouble for not paying customs duty, but it seems unlikely that he could have got far. The business did not do well, as he was a "kind-hearted and sincere man." (Habenicht, 217). His will in the Racine County Court House (Land Deeds, book 33, p. 16) dated May 15, 1850, lists his birth in 1807 in Prague. In an appendix to the will dated May 14, 1855, Kroupa states that he witnessed it and that Kunz has died. The Genealogical Society of Linn County can find no trace of him or his descendants in any of the usual records. Habenicht says that he bought a farm near West Amana, Iowa County in 1852.

¹⁷. Mikulesky and miscellaneous sources. Some information on Posler is from material in the Harrison County (Missouri) Genealogical Society. Mikulesky gives Anderle's name as Vaclav, but Habenicht says Frantisek Josef. On p. 308, he has a furrier named Josef Frantisek Anderle, who after arriving in Milwaukee in 1853 operated a bar and tailor shop. Date and place of birth are the same, but Habenicht does not relate them. Habenicht's information is not always 100 per cent correct, for hs has them arriving after the date when Posler bought land from my relatiave. The Milwaukee Anderle died on June 8, 1900, a suicide, says Habenicht.

Dear Ms. Kramer:

Some time ago, I received a copy of an article written by you called "First U.S. Czech Farm Community." In this article, you mention a Vaclav Andrle from Luze in the Chrudim district east of Prague who settled in Tabor, Wisconsin in the summer of 1850.

My great-great-grandfather, Frantisek (or Francis) Andrle left the village of Luze in May 1852 and settled in the city of Buffalo, New York. He came alone, and as far as I know, no other members of his family settled in Buffalo before or after him.

He had a brother named Vaclav Andrle who was born in Luze in 1838 and his grandfather was also Vaclav Andrle, born about 1777 but died before 1850.

Do you have any additional information about the Vaclav Andrie who settled in Tabor in 1850 or about his family? If not, do you know of anyone else who might have more information?

Thank you.

Sincerely,

Christopher Andrle

Ione Kramer 38542 Royal Ann Common Fremont, CA 94536

Dear Ms. Kramer:

Thank you so much for the information you sent regarding the Wisconsin ANDRLE. I don't know that I can add any additional information from my research, however, there seems to be some intriguing possibilities.

My ancestor, Frantisek (or Franz, Francis, Frank) Andrle arrived in New York City on the Bark Wieland on June 24, 1852 from the village of Luze in Bohemia. This is well documented as I have a copy of his passport, the ship passenger list, his birth record and other documents. Soon after, he appears in the city of Buffalo, New York, where most of his descendants have lived ever since. He came from Bohemia alone at age 17 and no other members of his family emigrated that I know of. There was no Czech community in Buffalo that I know of either.

Here is the problem. The 1850 census of Buffalo (taken two years before his arrival) shows a Francis Anderle, age 30, male, born in Germany, occupation tailor, along with a wife Frances, age 23, born in Germany and a son Joseph, age 6/12, also born in Germany. I don't know who this Francis was. He does not appear in Buffalo before 1850 but he obviously was in Buffalo before my Francis Andrle.

By the time of the 1855 New York State census, this earlier Francis and family is gone and my Francis, age 20, bom in Austria, 3 years a resident of Buffalo, is a boarder in the household of Adalbert Mischka. The Mischka family, also from Bohemia, had arrived in New York on the ship Jason on August 10, 1852, two months after my Francis Andrle.

I think that I have found this earlier Francis Andrle in Filby's Germans To America, vol. 1, page 195, as a passenger on the ship Virginia, arriving in New York on July 16, 1850. The index entry lists Anderler, Fr., age 16, male, farmer, Franzisca, age 22, female, farmer and Jos., age .06, male, infant. The ages and spellings are not exactly the same but I have not yet checked the original passenger list. The interesting thing is that on the same ship was another Anderler, Fr., age 58, male, farmer and listed next to him is Possler, Jos., age 27, male, farmer.

This first Andrie was 30 years old in 1850 and disappeared from Buffalo by about 1852. Could he have been the Andrie who was born in April 1820? Both were tailors. From the information you sent, I wonder if there may have been more than one Andrie in the Tabor area, one who returned to Bohemia and one who died in 1900. Perhaps these are the same two who arrived in 1850 on the ship Virginia.

I would really like to find out how my ancestor ended up in Buffalo, when most Czech emigrants from the same area seemed to be going to Wisconsin or Texas. I will have to recheck the Germans To America volume again and perhaps order a copy of the passenger list. I might just take a look at the 1850 census for Buffalo also and see if there is a Possler listed. I have received records from the Czech Republic documenting several generations of Andrie's beyond Francis and all siblings but I don't find any other Francis or Vaclav who fits. I don't know how large the Andrie family in Luze was, though.

If you find any more information about the Andrle(s) of Wisconsin, I would be very interested. One thing in particular I would like to find out is the name of the wife of the Francis Andrle who was born in 1820 and died in 1900. Could she have been Frances?

Sincerely,

Christopher Andrle

FIRST U.S. CZECH FARM COMMUNITY

by lone Kramer

It is well known that the first Czech community in the United States was in New York City. It consisted of some thirty-nine Czechs of the Pilsen 35th regiment of the Austrian army, who mutinied in the Hapsburg garrison at Mainz in 1847 and fled to the United States. Czech families also settled in Chicago (first known name 1846), Cleveland, St. Louis, and Milwaukee. But all these, if they could be called communities, were in the cities.

The first rural Czech settlement was in Caledonia Township in Racine County on the shore of Lake Michigan between Racine and Milwaukee, Wisconsin. It was known after 1872 as Tabor. Not much was made of this fact, if anyone had considered the matter at all, until Father Francis Dvornik pointed it out in his 1962 Czech Contributions to the Growth of the United States. Thomas Capek, in his classiic The Czechs (Bohemians) in the United States (1920) names Caledonia/Tabor as the second oldest Czech settlement, but this is true only if one discounts the several family city communities.

The first Czech to own land in Caledonia was A. C. (Charles) Kunz, a baron born in Prague who in late 1848 reached the United States. Between August and December 1849 he bought several lots in Racine six miles south of Tabor and pieces of land in Caledonia. He maintained his residence in the city, but told the 1850 census taker that he was a farmer. Managing his holdings was Anton Kroupa, a weaver from Vlasim near Prague, who has been said to have come with Kunz, and, again, arrived by himself in December 1848. He later owned a farm in Tabor. Kunz and how he came to Racine County have remained a mystery. He died in lowa County, lowa in 1855.

Generally considered the first Czechs to settle Tabor are Jan Posler and Vaclav Andrle, from Luze in the Chrudim district east of Prague. Arriving in the summer of 1850, they purchased land from a member of my family who had come three years earlier. Posler, a '48er, later moved to Cedar Rapids lowa, enlisted in the Union Army in the civil War, and wound up on a farm in Cainsville in the far northwestern corner of Missouri.

Wisconsin, the earliest state to be settled widely by Czechs, absorbed fully a third of all Czech immigrants before 1860. It was the first major center of Czech-American life. Other Czech Wisconsin communities began soon after Tabor: towns in Manitowoc County in 1851 and Kewaunee in 1854.

More settlers soon arrived in Caledonia, among them Daniel Stritesky, John Mazanek, and Mathias Secor in 1851, a group led by Jan Mikulecky of Sloupnice which reached Caledonia late 1852/ early 1853 via Bremen, Germany and Quebec, Canada. Several were assisted in emigrating by Anton Klobasa of Chocen and arrived from 1852 onward, and his own family in 1855.

While eastern Caledonia was still mainly forest, the Czechs had been preceded by a layer of "Yankee" (English and Irsih) settlers from the east from 1834 on, and by more recent Germans, among them my family. They were able to move into the log cabins of farms vacated by the restless Yankees who sought better land for extensive farming elsewhere.

It is not clear why these and other early arrivals should have come to this particular forested area with its foggy Wind point poking out into Lake Michigan like a nose above the mouth of the Root River. One apocryphal tale offers an explanation for why so many Czechs live along the lake in eastern Caledonia: At some unstated time a boat carrying a load of Czech immigrants shipwrecked on Wind Point, and the passengers, thrown up on the shore, settle there.

Beyond letters home, and from relatives the Czechs learned about Wisconsin in the same way as Germans of their time: flyers or ads in the same German-language newspapers. After 1852 newcomers at the New York docks were guided to Wisconsin by immigration commissioner Gysbert van Steenwyk, stationed there.

Possibly the very first Czechs, like many German immigrants, got off the lake boat in Milwaukee, rented a room in a home or hotel for their families, rented or bought a horse and possibly a wagon, and rode out looking for land. Finding farms closer to Milwaukee already bought up or too expensive, they chose Caledonia to the south.

FAMILY HOSTED REDEMPTORIST IN HOME

Many historic U.S. inns boast that George Washington or Abe Lincoln once slept there.

But St. Alphonsus parish in Peru, OH. has a different claim to fame; St. John Nepomucene Neumann slept, prayed and ministered there.

Parishoners are restoring a 167-year-old log house a mile away from their church and plan to move it onto the parish grounds to commemorate the 19th-century Redemptorist missionary.

The historic log cabin belonged to the Joseph Carabin family, one of the founding families of St. Alphonsus. Father Nelson Beaver said Father Neumann probably lived at the church, but very likly visited the Carabin home often and said Mass there because it was one of the houses nearest the church and home to significant members of the parish.

John Neumann was born in Bohemia in 1811 and immigrated to the United States in 1836 after theology studies in Prague. He was ordained a priest in New York and spent the next four years ministering western New York.

His desire to become a Redemptorist brought him to the tiny farm town of Peru in north central Ohio in 1841. Father Francis X. Tschenens, pastor of St. Alphonsus, was a spiritual director for the Redemptorists, and the young Father Neumann, apparently came to Peru for spiritual formation.

When Father Neumann arrived, Father Tschenens was on his way to serve Catholics in outlying areas of northwest Ohio, and put him in charge of the parish.

Parish records indicate that Father Neumann stayed from July to mid-November. Three baptisms in the parish were recorded with his signature. "We know he was here - it's been very well documented," Father Beaver said.

Father Neumann went on to become superior of the U.S. Redemptorists in 1847 and bishop of Philadelphia in 1852. He was declared a saint in 1977.

The two-story log cabin, stripped to its original wood structure, recently was dismantled to be moved to the parish grounds. Parish volunteers are cleaning and treating the wood so that it can remain exposed, reflecting its pioneer origins.

When the cabin is rebuilt, it will be converted into one story with a raised ceiling to allow for wall displays and large displays in the loft. The committee plans to develop exhibits on the life, ministry and miracles of St. John Neumann. Parishoners hope to have the prayer center completed before their parish festival in July.

In the absense of more information, one can only surmise: Perhaps Kunz or his wife Catherine Bayer knew someone, Czech or omerwise, in Racine. Or perhaps they had originally headed for Milwaukee and there learned of the developing town, Racine. Perhaps Andrie/Posler came the same way, or perhaps they knew Kunz/Kroupa.

One other surmise involves Vojta Naprstek a '48er who arrived in Milwaukee in the summer of 1850 to open a Czech bookstore. While in New York he had been secretary of the Czech Society, formed in 1850 to aid immigrants. Perhaps Andrle/Posler were directed to Milwaukee or Racine by the Czech Society. Posler, being a '48er, may have known Naprstek.

Tabor became :mother of all Bohemian settlements." Right off the boat, immigrants sought Tabor, for there they knew they'd find fellow countrymen and help. When local families built better homes, they kept their cabins for visitors. From Tabor and Racine, wagon trains of immigrants left for the further reaches and still-open land of lowa, Kansas, Minnesota, Nebraska, and Oklahoma. "There are very few states without Czechs from Czech Caledonia," wrote J. W. Mikulecky, a local carpenter who wrote a history of the place.

Hi Chris,

I do not blame you for not wanting to re-enter the data. I would not want to do it either. We will take your family information in any form you can get it to us but if you do not have access to the programs I listed, you have to come up with how best you can do it.

Can you just print it all out and send in hard copies?

I have your name in my family! It is way back to my greatX2 grandmother whose mom was Rozalie Andrle from Cermna 47. The family also lived in Petrovice and Ostrov back to the mid-1600s.

Keep in touch. Kathryn

RESEARCH IN NORTHEASTERN BOHEMIA

We are announcing a new research project which includes the area outlined on the enclosed map of northeastern Bohemia/Czech Republic. We hope you will join us as we build a data base of information about our ancestors which will develop into a great research tool for all of us. But even more than that, we are hoping to rebuild our ancestor's lives in the old country with the help of the Czech village historians and to follow our ancestor's paths to America and establishing their new lives here. To help us do this, we will need you to send us photocopies your family history material, charts, emigration facts, personal histories, any "family tradition" stories, tell us about your trips to the area and finding your relatives, etc. We will scrutinize, analyze, and then put it all on our ever-growing data base which will include a listing a surnames with birth dates, Czech villages with house numbers, their migration data, and their U. S. residences and their experiences here. We plan to explore all facets of their lives. It will be most interesting.

We have tried to reach many interested parties, but know we have missed many too. If you know other people researching this area, please feel free to copy this mailing and send it on to them. Or you can send in names and addresses to KBD for processing. You can also distribute these to your area genealogical societies, Sokol or Lodge Halls. We would appreciate your help in that way. We are also open to any suggestions you might have of any type to make this more interesting and complete. We will try to answer your questions too. Please let us know if you want to get more involved with the project. We can probably find work for you. We are also sending you a list of the villages with the German names in parenthesis and a list of surnames with spelling variations we have so far. I am sure they are not all included yet.

If we have you on our mailing list and you are not researching this area, please let KBD know and have your name removed.

We are doing all of this with a sincere interest in the subject, a hope to help other people, and I might add, and out of the goodness of our hearts. If you want to be notified of possible family connections or items of interest to you, please send us some stamps or money to cover the costs. This is a "not for profit" endeavor. We will accept donations to help cover our costs. So let's get the ball rolling on this and see what we can get accomplished.

none that would refer to Anderle or Andrle.

I have not mentioned variants like: Drebes, Dreus 1330, Anderweit, Endruscheit Endrikat.

Chris- If you are interested and have the capability to read a JPEG image I'll send you the whole page and you can sort it out yourself.

My own guess is that your name may be the austrian short form for Andreas the dimunitive Andrle, Anderle.

Frank.

American Extremists: Militias, Supremacists, Klansmen, Communists, and Others

by Bob Powers, August 31, 1996

With the increasing media coverage of political extremists, ranging from organized militia to single crackpots working alone, there has needed to be a book that examines this disturbing phenomenon. It turns out, there already was one.

John George, an Oklahoma college professor, and Laird Wilcox, founder of the Wilcox Collection of Contemporary Political Movements, published their exhaustive history of American extremist movements in 1992. Now updated and retitled as American Extremists: Militias, Supremacists, Klansmen, Communists, and Others (Prometheus Books), it's a valuable reference for anyone interested in the topic.

In their introduction, the authors note that extremists "tend to believe things supported by little or no evidence," adding that many of them "have a strong proclivity toward 'conspiracy theories,' that is, the belief that events are controlled by a small group of insiders who, with the assistance of their allies throughout society, are working for their advantage and our doom."

There are a frightening number of people who subscribe to such theories, as you'll discover by spending time listening to various right-wing radio talk shows anywhere around the country. The conspiracy nuts are quite vocal in expounding their theories, and judging by the huge numbers of listeners, those theories have gained acceptance by many who should know better.

George and Wilcox assert that political extremists "prefer to believe what they prefer to be true."

Readers in the Columbus area need only to listen to Fred Andrle on WOSU-AM weekday afternoons to find a host of conspiracy advocates grabbing time for their unsubstantiated paranoia.

American Extremists is fascinating reading and serves as an excellent introduction to a topic that should continue to grab headlines and concern for a long time.

Bob Powers, who lives in Marietta, Ohio, is a former managing editor of The Free Press.

1994 German Phone Directory

> I've seen references to a German Phone CD. If anyone knows any details on > where to find the resource, please post to the group. 8/20/94

Bob,

There are 2 versions of the 1994 German telephone directory on CD-ROM available, produced by the same company, and marketed in almost identical boxes. One, which sells for DM 398, does not does not allow "blind" surname searches -- i.e., one must know the name of the town before one can search for a surname -- which makes it useless for most genealogical research. The other edition, however, which sells for DM 498, does allow blind surname searches. I have a copy of this "good" edition, and will be happy to check it for surnames any netters may be researching. Please address your requests to me at my e-mail address below. Be certain to indicate whether you wish the listings to be ordered alphabetically by locality or numerically by (new) postal code. I have only one restriction: I cannot undertake blind searches for very common surnames such as Meyer (105,097 listings), Schmidt (215,634 listings), or M"uller (303,032 listings): printing this many listings to a disk file would take several several hours, if not days, and would quickly wear out my CD-ROM drive; in addition, the university computer here, which is temperamental at the best of times, would almost certainly balk at mailing files of this size 8>). I will, however, check for these surnames in specific localities. (If you don't know whether the surname you are Shown 20%, press <SPACE> for more, 'q' to quit, or 'h' for help ALT-F10 HELP 3 ANSI-BBS 3 FDX 3 2400 N81 3 LOG CLOSED 3 PRT OFF 3 CR 3 CR

The BMW Pick-up is here.

The BMW 1985 line-up is well worth a close look. Finding time to do so, however, may present a problem.

Which is why we are pleased to announce the BMW Pick-up. A service introduced on a trial basis by BMW's Toronto area dealers only — and only for serious prospects. Here's how it works:

Call one of us; tell us which model interests you; arrange an appointment. We will come and collect you from your home or office and take you out for a test ride. An in-depth one. So you can get the true feel of a BMW. Experience first-hand how well it holds the road. How smoothly it rides. How exhilarating its performance. How superbly crafted from stem to stern, inside and out. How irresistible.

The legend of Anderle began on July 12, 1462, when the child's body was found outside Rinn showing clear signs of abuse and torture. Although the murderer was never discovered, the inhabitants of the town blamed four Jewish travellers who had recently passed through the village. They built a church at the site of the murder and over the centuries decorated it with dramatic frescoes of mocking Jews slaughtering the innocent child, a similar group of almost life-size sculpted wooden figures and the skeleton of Anderle in luxurious robes above the altar. Despite a church. ban on the cult following the second Vatican Council in 1965, it continued to

This summer Rinn's 1,000 inhabitants defied church authority by staging Anderle's annual procession, some carrying banners that read "Give us back our Anderle." The diocese had already removed the wooden statues from the church, installed a stone memorial repudiating the cult and rededicated it to the memory of all abused children. Declared diocese official Abbot Alois Stoger: "Anderle may have been murdered, but he did not die for his faith and is thus not a martyr. Therefore, his remains may not be worshipped and had to be given a decent burial."

Still, few believe that the cult will disappear as handily as the bones. Nadine Hauer, a Jewish historian who interviewed almost every inhabitant of Rinn, claims that 80 per cent still insist that Jews slaughtered Anderle just as, they said, Jews slaughtered Christ himself. Said Hauer: "What frightened me most was the way teachers from all over the area brought school classes to the church and told them the legend as though it were gospel truth. Those children are imbued with anti-Semitism for life." People still leave fresh flowers every morning outside the locked doors of the Anderle church, and the souvenir kiosk across the street, which is owned by the leader of the pro-Anderle faction in Rinn, Roman Schmiderer, still does a flourishing trade. Citizens have spat upon Father Werner Seifert, the young local priest who supports the church ban on the cult. And some local police fear a "night and fog" action to exhume Anderle's remains and take them to a secret place of worship. Anderle may be buried, but it will be some time before his anti-Semitic legend is put to rest.

Secret Military Trial Convicted "Authentic War Hero" Of Sabotage

By JEFF NESMITH / Cox Washington Bureau 11-18-01

WASHINGTON – He has been called "an authentic American war hero," whose acts may have saved the lives of hundreds of American civilians.

Yet George Johann Dasch was tried as a saboteur by a secret military tribunal, similar to the one President Bush hopes will try members of Osama bin Laden's al-Qaida terrorist network. He was found guilty in 1942 and sent to the Atlanta Federal Penitentiary.

The case was seen Friday as cause for even greater concern by some — though not all — of the legal scholars who previously had criticized an executive order authorizing the Defense Department to try alleged al-Qaida terrorists in secret if it chooses.

Dasch was not a saboteur, once-sealed government documents show.

The records were made public in 1980 by Atlanta Constitution reporter Seth Kantor, who said they showed that Dasch prevented seven German-trained agents from carrying out their planned attacks on U.S. territory. And he coaxed the Federal Bureau of Investigation into investigating the plot.

But after the secret trial, at which Dasch was the eighth defendant and was convicted, he was sentenced to 30 years' hard labor. Another defendant was sentenced to life at hard labor, and the other six were executed.

"Ironically, he is most probably an authentic American hero, responsible for saving many lives. But fate had made him a threat to the FBI's public image," wrote former FBI Special Agent William W. Turner in the 1970 history, "Hoover's FBI: The Men and the Myth."

J. Edgar Hoover, then director of the FBI, blocked release of records about Dasch's deeds. The FBI director declared at one point that the records "might lead to embarrassment of the FBI," wrote Kantor, who is now deceased.

Kantor said the trial transcript showed that FBI agents promised Dasch a quick presidential pardon, but it did not happen. FBI records showed that Hoover, who was considered for a congressional medal because of the way his agents blocked the saboteurs, was motivated by a desire to seize credit for "the detective job of the century," Kantor said.

Critics of Bush's executive order found new cause for concern when told Friday of the Dasch case.

"It's extraordinary," said Harvard University law professor Ann Marie Slaughter. "The danger of trial by military commission is precisely that it lacks the constitutional safeguards that we think are necessary to ensure that the people we try and convict are indeed guilty. To the extent that may in fact not have been the case in (Dasch's case), it highlights the special danger of using such commissions today."

She noted that the government may take to the planned secret trials "individuals whose crime is no greater than to have overstayed their visas and to have had contact with others who may have had contact with the terrorist network."

Senate Judiciary Committee Chairman Patrick Leahy, D-Vt., after reading copies of Kantor's 1980 articles, declared: "The lesson is that secret trials and lack of judicial oversight may be expedient, but they can also foster injustice and taint the legitimacy of the verdicts."

Duke University law professor Scott Silliman said he was still more concerned that Bush's directive lacks the legal validity that a formal declaration of war or similar action by Congress would give it than about the way a secret commission appears to have mistreated Dasch in 1942.

Yale University law professor Ruth Wedgwood, an expert on international law and a former prosecutor, has said she thinks the commissions ordered by Bush are justified because of the need to protect classified documents and the urgency of stopping bin Laden.

However, she said she has urged lawyers at the Department of Defense to draw up rules that would keep most of the proceedings public, with "some flexibility to close things that are classified."

Attorney General John Ashcroft cited the saboteurs case earlier this week as one of several legal precedents for Bush's action.

The U.S. Supreme Court upheld the constitutionality of the 1942 tribunal.

"As far as legal authority or precedent is concerned, I would just say that this executive order does not preclude any other proceeding from taking place," said White House spokesman Ken Lasaius. "It is simply one option that could be pursued if the president thinks it is necessary."

Hoover prevailed on his boss, then Attorney General Tom Clark, in 1944 to suppress a Department of Justice summary of the secret trial.

"There are many references throughout the summary to the telephone call of George J. Dasch to the Bureau," Hoover wrote to Clark. "There is a possibility, if such references are permitted, that the press will be curious as to the manner in which the bureau received its information."

Dasch was one of eight men put through saboteur training by the Nazi military intelligence corps soon after the United States entered the war. They were placed ashore in two groups — four at Ponte Vedra, Fla., and four (including Dasch) at Amagansett on Long Island — in June 1942.

Their assigned targets included aluminum plants in Alcoa, Tenn., Massena, N.Y., and East St. Louis, Ill., and a cryolite plant in Philadelphia. They were also to bomb a railroad terminal in Newark, locks on the Ohio River below Cincinnati, the Hell Gate Bridge in New York, and various railroad bridges and tunnels.

Dasch was a German citizen and legal resident alien of the United States and was married to an American woman, Kantor reported. He was swept into the saboteur training when visiting Germany prior to the war and agreed to take the training for the explicit purpose of sabotaging the saboteurs, Kantor reported.

Within hours after being placed ashore with three others at Long Island, Dasch telephoned the New York office of the FBI and exposed the plot, according to records Kantor reported obtaining under the U.S. Freedom of Information Act. An FBI agent who took the call did not regard it important. He wrote a memorandum about the call and filed it.

A few days later, Dasch arrived by train in Washington and went directly to FBI headquarters, carrying a briefcase filled with more than $30,000 in U.S. currency that had been provided by mission planners in Germany to help finance the work.

Still FBI agents refused to believe him, "but Dasch talked for five http://www.coxnews.com/washingtonbureau/staff/nesmith/111801TRIBUNALS.html straight days," Kantor reported, "issuing a statement that filled 254 single-spaced typewritten pages at FBI headquarters."

Following the leads Dasch provided them, FBI agents quickly rounded up the other seven, along with explosives stashed in the Jacksonville Beach sand and $174,588 in cash. Although agents repeatedly cross-checked Dasch's statement, they could find no place where he had lied, Kantor wrote.

Dasch served two years in the Atlanta penitentiary, then was sent to Ft. Leavenworth, Kansas, where he was housed with "hardened Nazis who regularly threatened to kill him," Kantor said. In 1948, he was paroled by President Truman and deported to Germany. He has since died.

What you have is a "patron submission" i.e. someone submitted the information, probably for one of the religious ordinances. If you order the film - use the library call number - you will get the whole batch that that patron and others submitted at the same time. Once you get the film look for the sheet numbers.
Also look before and after those, as there may be other sheets submitted by the same patron about relatives you didn't yet know of, that you may be interested in. Or you can order copies of the sheets from Salt Lake. Ask at the FHC for the form to order the copies. Then you can (try to) contact the person who submitted the information, yours was in 1982, if they are still in that location, for information as to the sources they used. If the person has moved and your letter is returned, I've been told that the LDS Church is sometimes willing and able to help you contact the submitter, by forwarding a letter to the local church wherever they moved to.
Good luck!

Chris, I order photocopies of the records on the IGI directly from the Family History Department in SLC. My local library has the form as does my local family history center. It is called Request for Photocopies, 2-sided. It is 25 cents a copy for a patron submission and $2.00 each for an extracted record (starts with a C, E, J, K, M, P, and 700 series. If you can get to a FHC, it is only 15 cents through them, but then you only get the record on loan and you have to make your own copy. So, ask around, someone must know where to get the form for you. Oh, and be patient, it takes about 6 weeks to receive the info, but it's worth it!

Instructions

- Use this form to order photocopies of the International Genealogical Index on microfiche or an index source. Please use a separate form for each type of request. For example, do not use the same form to request copies of both a patron submission and an extracted record.
- 2. Please provide all information necessary to identify the item to be copied.
- The library may need to limit the number of copies or decline some photocopy requests because of copyright or other restrictions. Sources which have batch numbers that start with H, M17, M18, T000011 to T000137, T90, T9991, 694, and 696 cannot be photocopied.
- If you have any questions, please ask a staff member at the family history center to review your completed form before you mail it.
- Please send your check or money order (payable to the Family History Department) with the forms. There is a $2.00 minimum.
 - $.25 (cents) for each copy when you provide page numbers. (For patron submissions, the sheet number is the page number.)
 - $2.00 for each copy from an extracted record (batches C, M, P, etc.) or without a specific page number.

NOTICE WARNING CONCERNING COPYRIGHT RESTRICTIONS

The copyright law of the United States (Title 17, United States Code) governs the making of photocopies or other reproductions of copyrighted material.

Under certain conditions specified in the law, libraries and archives are authorized to furnish a photocopy or other reproduction. One of these specific conditions is that the photocopy or reproduction is not to be "used for any purpose other than private study, scholarship, or research." If a user makes a request for, or later uses, a photocopy or reproduction for purposes in excess of "fair use," that user may be liable for copyright infringement.

This institution reserves the right to refuse to accept a copying order if, in its judgment, fulfillment of the order would involve violation of copyright law.

Subject: Dentinger family

Dear Chris.

I am also trying to research my family tree. We have some things in common, sort of. My great grandfather Ludwig Dentinger, born 8-24-1824 in Alsace, married Katherine Meyer (born 1-15-1832 in Alsace) on 12-20-1853 at St John's chruch in buffalo, NY. Do you suppose Ludwig and Philip were brothers? And maybe they married sister? Although Meyer is a very common name. I don't know anything about Ludwig's parents or siblings. Do you have any such info re Philip?

Ludwig and Katherine moved to Mankato, MN around 1866. They had 14 children. If you think we have any common ties and want to correspond pleae write back. My name is Ann Claeys - PrairieAnn@aol.com, or 9375 Country Circle, Elizabeth, CO 80107.

Thanks, Ann

Rev. N. Batt Dies; Missioner Interned by Japan in WW II

The Rev. Norman P. Batt, MM, 70, a Maryknoll missionary for 45 years, who was in a Japanese concentration camp during World War II, died Wednesday (Nov. 5, 1975) in Sisters Hospital after a brief illness.

Although in semi-retirement, Father Batt assisted at Christ the King Church, Snyder.

He was in China when Pearl Harbor was bombed, Dec. 7, 1941, and in subsequent months was interned in a Japanese concentration camp and also was under house arrest while in the mission field.

He returned to the U.S. in 1943.

While in the U.S. he served the mission order in the education field both as administrator and teacher. Afterward he was placed in charge of the order's construction program and supervised work in Chicago, St. Louis and the Boston area.

He attended St. Louis parochial school and was a graduate of Canisius High School and Canisius College. He joined the Maryknolls in 1926 and was ordained in 1930.

Father Batt's family was in the plumbing, heating and remodeling work here and the business founded in 1895 by his father, Robert C., was located at Michigan Ave. and Carlton St. more than 60 years.

His great-great-grandfather, Joseph Batt, donated the land and helped build the original Our Lady Help of Christians Shrine at Union Rd. and Genesee St., Cheektowaga.

The missionary priest is survived by a sister, Mrs. Hildegarde L. Brown of Buffalo and a brother, Louis J. Batt, of Snyder, N.Y.

A concelebrated Mass of Christian Burial will be offered at 11 AM tomorrow in Christ the King Church. Burial will be in the Maryknoll Fathers cemetery at Maryknoll, N.Y.

MUSICIANS

L. Zelenka Lerando was concert harpist to the Duke of Devonshire and later at the court of Detmold, Lippe. He toured America in 1911–15.

A Čech by birth (on his father's side) was Joseph Mischka, for more than half a century a teacher of music in Buffalo. Born in 1826, Mischka settled in that city with his parents in 1853. John Borecký, who knew Mischka personally, counts him as a fellow countryman, spelling his name Myška. He died in Buffalo in 1913.

Born in the same year as Mischka and like him a teacher among the Germans was Hans Balatka. In Milwaukee Balatka achieved wide renown as author, conductor, and musical critic (writing for the Illinois Staatszeitung). In former years he was happy to get into touch with his nationals. He did not deny his Čech birth; environment, he declared, had made him a German.¹

A genius in his own way was John Reindl, who came to New York in 1869, with Slavjansky's Russian Concert Company. In Prague Reindl sang in the Russian Cathedral with the wife of Antonín Dvořák. For a time he was soloist in the Russian Cathedral in San Francisco and while in that city he took up the study of Chinese, and friends claim he was the only Čech who could carry on a conversation in that language. Reindl died in New York in 1906 in poverty.

Mr. Lattimer is a devoted Mason, and is a member of all the bodies of that order up to and including the 32d degree. He belongs to DeMolay Lodge, No. 498, F. & A. M.; Buffalo Chapter, No. 71, R. A. M.; Lake Erie Commandery, No. 20, K. T.; Buffalo Council; and Ismailia Temple, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine. He belongs likewise to the Masonic social organization called the Acacia Club.

PERSONAL CHRONOLOGY — George Edward Lattimer was born at Buffalo June 19, 1864: was educated in the Buffalo public schools: engaged in a general carting business in Buffalo, 1880–86: married Annie Jones of Buffalo December 10, 1890: has been a member of the firm of Grattan & Lattimer, general freight contractors, since 1886.

Joseph Mischka fought his way to an enviable position in the musical world of Buffalo by dint of energy and perseverance, coupled with natural gifts of a high order. His success is the more interesting and noteworthy from the fact that his training as a musician has been obtained altogether in Buffalo. He was not born in that city, but was brought thither at the age of six by his parents. The latter were in humble circumstances, and were unable to give their son much education. After attending a kindergarten in his native Bohemia, and one of the Buffalo public schools, he entered the parochial school connected with St. Louis Church, Buffalo. It was evident early in life that he possessed unusual musical talent, and his parents determined to foster this gift as much as possible. At the age of seven, accordingly, they obtained a chance for him to study the violin; and he became a member of the orchestra that then took the place of an organ in St. Louis Church. A little later he developed a fine voice, and was made the principal alto in the choir. His gifts attracted the attention of the Rev. William Deiters, who was an ardent lover of music and who became the good genius of the boy. Father Deiters was possessed of an ample fortune, and he gave the young musician many advantages that would not otherwise have been his.

At the age of thirteen Joseph Mischka left school to become an errand boy for Blodgett & Bradford, music dealers. The connection became something more than a business one, since Mr. Blodgett recognized the talent of his employee, and helped him in various ways to acquire a musical education. Young Mischka made the most of these opportunities, and at the age of fifteen was sufficiently advanced in his studies to become the organist of the North Presbyterian Church Sunday school. Soon after this he obtained the position of organist at Calvary Presbyterian Church. From there he went to Westminster, and thence successively to the old Unitarian Church, to the Universalist, and to St. Paul's. Each of these changes constituted a step in advance as regards both dignity of position and compensation. It may be said, indeed, that in all the numerous changes made by Mr. Mischka, he never gave up a place except by voluntary resignation to accept another position in the line of promotion. His house is filled with valuable gifts received at various times from the societies and churches with which he has been connected.

While organist of the Westminster Church, Mr. Mischka began his career as conductor of singing societies by taking charge of the newly organized Arion Society. This was a chorus of mixed voices, and its concerts, conducted by Mr. Mischka, were very popular. In 1868 he became chorus master of the Caroline Richings Opera Co., with which he remained one year. Returning to Buffalo at the end of that period, he found the Liedertafel directorship vacant, and was asked to conduct rehearsals until the position should be permanently filled from abroad. He was so well liked, however, that the idea of sending to Europe for a leader was abandoned: and Mr. Mischka remained in the position twenty-four years, with an interruption of two years between 1877 and 1879. On his retirement in the fall of 1894 the office of honorary director was created in order to bestow it upon him.

Mr. Mischka was the local musical director of the Saengerfest of the North American Saengerbund held in Buffalo in 1883, comprising 3000 singers and 100 musicians, and of the great musical festivals held in that city in 1884, 1885, and 1887. He was director of the Vocal Society from 1887 to 1894, and brought that organization to a high pitch of excellence. For the last twenty-seven years, with the exception of two years between 1880 and 1882, Mr.

Mischka has been organist of Temple Beth Zion; and since 1887 he has been organist at the Delaware Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church. Since 1873 he has been professor of music in the Buffalo State Normal School. Having been appointed in the fall of 1894 supervisor of music in the Buffalo public schools, he found the responsibility of this position so great that he severed his connection with the Liedertafel and with the Vocal Society. He now has 60,000 children in his charge. It is his ambition and aim, not only to teach music to the children for their own sake, but also to furnish capable singers to the chorus masters of the next generation.

As a promoter of music in Buffalo no man has a record superior to that of Mr. Mischka. He has always been active in support of musical enterprises, and has never been sparing of his time or strength in furthering their success. His generosity toward his colleagues is well known, and many a young musician dates his career from the time when Mr. Mischka brought him to public notice.

PERSONAL CHRONOLOGY— Joseph Mischka was born at Hermanmestec, Austria, May 8, 1846; came to the United States in 1852, and settled in Buffalo; was chorus master of an opera troupe, 1868–69; engaged in business as music dealer and publisher, 1869–72: married Catherine Dietz of Buffalo September 5, 1871; was director of the Buffalo Liedertafel, 1870–77 and 1879–94: has held various prominent positions as teacher of music and as church organist in Buffalo since 1870.

Daniel O'Grady, one of the deputy excise commissioners appointed under the famous Raines law of 1896, was born in Rochester, N. Y., a short time before the outbreak of the Civil War. His father carried on a prosperous business in Rochester for many years, and there the young man acquired his education and early business experience. After attending the public schools of the Flower City he

JOSEPH MISCHKA, Supervisor of Music in the Buffalo public schools, honorary Director and former leader of the Liedertafel Singing Society, former Director of the Arion and Vocal societies, organist of Temple Beth-Zion, and of the Delaware Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church of Buffalo, is Buffalo's musical director par excellence, and one of the representative musicians of the State.

Mr. Mischka's paternal ancestry was Hungarian, while his mother came of German lineage. His father, Adalbert Mischka, was born February 2, 1817, and lived in the town of Herrman-Myestetz. Bohemia. About 1840 he was drafted into the Austrian army, and in 1852 he came with his family to America, settling in Buffalo, where he continued to pursue his trade of cabinet-maker till his death, February 22, 1894. He was independent in politics, in religion a Roman Catholic, and attended St. Louis' Church. Before coming to the United States he married Barbara Wilhelmina Schmidt of Herman-Myestetz, Bohemia, who was born October 12, 1817, and died March 21, 1890. Of their eight children, two, Bohmumil and Josephine, died in infancy, and two daughters, Anna and Emily, have since died. The children who survive are: Joseph Charles, Augusta and Edward, all residents of Buffalo. Charles Mischka is Professor of Music in Canisius College, and his sister, Anna, achieved distinction as an opera, concert and church singer.

Joseph Mischka was born at Herman-Myestetz, Bohemia, Mai 8, 1846, and received his early education in his native town. 1852 he came with his parents to America, and continued h studies in the Buffalo public schools and at the parochial school of St. Louis' Church. He manifested unmistakable music ability in childhood, and when seven years old began the stud of the violin, and was made a member of the orchestra of Louis' Church. Later he developed fine vocal powers became principal alto of the choir. When thirteen years of he was obliged to leave school and begin work for Blodgett Bradford, a Buffalo firm of music dealers. Mr. Blodgett, the senior partner, quickly recognized the musical talent of employe, gave him valuable lessons and advice and helped him in many ways. At the age of fifteen Mr. Mischka was made organist of the North Presbyterian Church Sunday-School in Buffalo, and soon afterward became organist of the Calvary Presbyterian Church. From there he went to Westminster Church, and subsequently to the old Unitarian Church. In the meantime he was appointed head of the Arion Society, a chorus of male voices, and under his direction the concerts of the society were very popular. In 1868 he was made chorus-master of the Caroline Richings Opera Company, with which he continued one year.

In 1870 the Liedertafel directorship being vacant, Mr. Mischka volunteered to conduct the rehearsals. He was so well liked that the society abandoned the idea of sending to Europe for a leader, and he was appointed to the place, retaining it for twenty-four years, save a two years' interval from 1877 to 1879. In 1894 he resigned to devote more time to his work in the public schools. On his retirement he was elected honorary member and honorary Director of the organization. In 1887 Mischka was chosen Director of the Vocal Society, Buffalo, and continued to hold the place till 1894. For thirty-six years he has been organist of Temple Beth-Zion. From 1880 to 1887 he was organist of St. Paul's Church, in the latter year leaving that position to become the organist at the Delaware Avenue Methodist Church in which capacity he is still serving. Since 1873 Mr. Mischka has been, and is still, the teacher of music in the Buffalo State Normal School. In the fall of 1894 he was appointed Supervisor of Music in the public schools of Buffalo, which position he now holds and wherein he has accomplished some of his most memorable work.

Mr. Mischka was local musical director of the Saengerfest of the North American Saengerbund held in Buffalo in 1883, in which 3,000 singers and 100 instrumental musicians participated. In 1885 Thomas' orchestra was in Buffalo, and was followed by Damrosch's in 1887. In 1888 the Thomas orchestra was again heard in Buffalo, and the same year a musical festival was held in connection with Gilmore's Band. Mr. Mischka was the local Musical Director on each of these occasions, and conducted the numbers both for chorus and orchestra. At the Grand Army reunion in Buffalo in 1897 Mr. Mischka originated and successfully carried out the idea of drilling 4,000 school-chilten, dressed in costume emblematic of the Stars and Stripes. To form in a body shaped and colored like a gigantic shield and to sing in chorus.

September 5, 1871, Mr. Mischka married Catherine Dietz, a daughter of Frederick Dietz, of Erie, Pa. They have one daughter, Caroline.

ARTHUR WASHINGTON HICKMAN, of the law firm of Hickman & Palmer, is a lawyer of thirty-five years' standing, a leading member of the Erie County bar and a prominent figure in public and social life.

Mr. Hickman is of English parentage, his father, the late Isaac Hickman, having been a native of Devonshire who in 1847 came to the United States and settled in Buffalo. There he operated a vise and tool shop for two years, but in 1849

Chris,

Don't know if these tid-bits are of any interest to you, but here goes anyway:

oAdalbert Mischka: "He had an expert knowledge of cabinet making and a keen love of music. His chief ambition was to educate his children and to develop in them their pronounced musical talents."

(Source: Letter written by Adalbert's grandaughter, Katherine Mischka Watkins)

oEmily Mischka: Sang contralto in the Saint Paul's Church quartet (Source: "History of Saint Paul's Church, Buffalo, NY, 1817-1903")

oAnna Mischka: "She was a celebrated singer who died at an early age." (Source: Letter written by Katherine Mischka Watkins) Sang soprano in the quartets at Saint Paul's Church and Saint Luke's Church during the 1870s. Also performed as a soloist. (Source: "History of Saint Paul's Church, Buffalo, NY, 1817-1903") oJoseph Mischka: Served as organist and director of the choir at both Saint Paul's and Saint Luke's Churches from around 1871 until he resigned in 1888. After resigning, he went to Deleware Avenue Methodist Church. He served as musical director of the Liedertafel (German Singing Society) from 1868 to 1894.

In 1894, he was appointed as musical director for the city of Bufflo public schools.

Chris,

I checked out the article -- interesting. There was also mention of Emily O'Neil, a daughter of Adalebert and Barbara.

I was wondering if you wanted any of the Mischka info I have for your "new" Mischka file. Maybe some of the names would help you in your search for more information about Francis Andrle? Let me know -- I have a descendancy chart and some other stuff I could copy.

One more question: do you happen to know where the Mischka burial plot is? Maybe Mount Calvary Cemetery? I know at least Carl Mischka (not the "original" Carl, but one of the later ones -- there were many) was buried there, along with his wife and infant daughter. I have not found where the others were buried.

Thanks,

Wendy Loughlin

Dear Chris,

Just got your message on the Mischkas and am very excited! Thanks for writing.

As far as I know, the Mischkas also came to Buffalo in 1852 -- must have arrived just before your great-great-grandfather? Do you know from where in Bohemia they originated? My records say Hermmanastanz (sp?).

My connection to the Mischkas is as follows: the original Mischkas, Adalbert and Barbara, had the last of their six children in Buffalo. That child, named Edward, had a daughter named Augusta Barbara, who had a daughter, Katherine Cudding, who had a son, Daniel Loughlin, who is my father.

There were so many children and grandchildren, I imagine there are still Mischkas around somewhere today, but I am-not acquainted with any of them.

I know Carl Mischka, one of the children of Adalbert and Barbara, taught music for many years at Canisius College. I have contacted the school, and they are sending me some pieces of music that he composed. I also know that Carl, Joseph, Emily and Anna Mischka were all involved with the music program at St. Paul's Church. Also, Anna Mischka married a man named Blackmar (don't know the first name), was a soprano, and died young. I wonder if you know anything about her? She has always fascinated me.

Thanks again for responding. I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

Wendy Loughlin

query: Adalbert and Barbara MISCHKA came to Buffalo from Bohemia in 1852. They had six children: Emily, Anna, Agusta ("Gussie"), Joseph, Carl and Edward. Of these, only Edward was born in Buffalo; the rest were born in Bohemia. Emily married Nicholas O'NEIL and died in 1909. Anna's married name was BLACKMAR (sp?), and she married circa 1871. She was supposedly a well-known opera singer in the area (I know she sang at St. Pauls' Church), but is said to have "died at an early age." Augusta married John RUSS. Joseph was organist and director of the choir at St. Paul's and St. Luke's Churches in the 1870s and 1880s; he also served as director of the "Liedertafel" (German singing society) from 1868-1894. Later, he was appointed as director of music in the city public schools. Carl was born on October 15, 1848 (in Bohemia) and died on January 28, 1915. He married a woman named Sarah. He taught music at Canisius College and composed his own pieces as well. Edward married!

Katherine Agnes BOYLE (daughter of Andrew BOYLE and Jane DUNNIGAN). They had seven children: Frances, Katherine, Ann, Joseph, Augusta Barbara, Edward and Carl. Frances married Arthur DAYTON and had a daughter named Carole. Katherine married Robert WATKINS. Ann married Arthur MILLER and had Glen, Peter and Derek. Augusta Barbara was born September 10, 1890 and died October 1, 1968 in Syracuse, NY. She married Harry W. CUDDING in 1914 and had two daughters, Katherine and Jane. Edward was born August 31, 1893 and died April 1969. His wife was named Mary. Carl was born in 1896 and died on April 7, 1974. His wife, named Hilda, was born January 6, 1901 and died March 1975. They had four children: Robert, Joanne, Susan and Carl (born June 19, 1924), who became a doctor and died on April 7, 1974. The MISCHKAs were communicants of Saint Louis Roman Catholic Church in Buffalo.
